10. TRADING

10.1 Transaction execution

10.1.1. The Client puts an order with the price that he or she can see in the Trading terminal and when the trade is opened then the execution will start. The price in the Client's order may differ from the current market price because of the high market volatility or by delays caused by failures in the Internet connection between the Client and Company servers. The Client must make a trade in his or her own name or entitle somebody else to act on his or her behalf. The latter needs notarized power of attorney and other required documents.

10.1.2. The Company is willing to put on its best effort for the most effective execution of the Client's order, although the Company cannot guarantee order execution in exact compliance with the Client's pre-sets. The Company will immediately notify the Client if there is no possibility to execute his or her order (for example due to market closure, asset illiquidity, etc.)

10.1.3. Trading order can be put and executed/deleted only during the Company's trading hours, however this order will remain valid during the next trading hours' timeframe.

10.1.4. The Company can change the list of assets that are available for the Client to open Forex and/or CFD trades. Let's say if one of the major assets has high chances to fall down and the Company is aware of this fact, then the Company is entitled to withdraw the asset from its Trading platform.

10.1.5. If deem necessary the Company may impose limitation on the number of opened positions by a Client or impose other limitations, for example:

- a. Limitation on the maximum amount per order;
- b. Control of the Trading platform in order to identify the Client while he or she makes a trade.

10.1.6. If these limitations will be imposed, the Company will notify the Client in advance about such changes.

In this case, the Company will inform the Client about such adjustment and no Client consent will be required.

10.2. Transaction confirmations

Confirmations for all transactions that have been executed in the Client's trading account will be available via the Client's online account through the Trading platform as soon as the transaction is executed. It is Client's responsibility to notify the Company, within 2 Business Days, if any confirmations are incorrect. The Client may request to receive the Account statement for a month or a quarter. The Company may provide it but is not obliged to provide to the Client this data. It is the Client's responsibility to inform the Company of any change to his email address (or any other relevant personal information), the non-receipt of a Confirmation, or whether any Confirmations are incorrect before settlement.

10.3. The Client has the right to authorize a third person to give orders to the Company. In order to do so, the Client has to authorize the third person in accordance with the legal procedure and provide notarized documents that prove the third person authorization. 10.4. The Company shall provide the Client with reports on the services provided in a durable medium.

10.5. We reserve the right to void from the outset any Transaction containing or based on Manifest Error. In the absence of our fraud or wilful default, we will not be liable to you for any loss, cost, claim, demand or expense following any Manifest Error.

10.6. You acknowledge that when the Company offers services other than Portfolio Management, the terms for providing quotations depend on the types of account that the Client is using. For Orders executed on STP basis, as explained above, all of our prices and quotes shown on the Trading Platform are the ones provided by the Company's Execution Venue. The Execution Venue obtains prices (BID and ASK prices) of the Underlying Asset for a given CFD from third party reputable external reference sources (i.e. price feeders). The Execution Venue then uses these prices to calculate their own tradable prices for a given CFD and provide them to the Company. When you enter into an Order under the DOA model, the Company is the principal to each trade that you enter. Under the DOA execution model, the Company quotes a spread for each instrument. The spreads shown on the Company's website are variable, the spreads vary throughout the day, depending on the market volatility and available liquidity. The Company shall be entitled to alter the amount of the spread without prior written notification to the Client. For more information on this refer closely to our "Order Execution Policy" and "Execution Venues RTS".

10.7. Each Position opened by you, and any Transaction completed, will be binding on you notwithstanding that by opening the Position you may have exceeded any credit or other limit applicable to you or in respect of your dealings with us. It is noted however that the Company applies a Negative Balance Protection Policy pursuant to which, you may not lose more than the amount deposited in your account. 11.13. Should your country of residence operate regulations or laws which restrict the use of currency or require you to report receipts and payments of that currency to a regulator or legal authority, you agree that you will fulfil any reporting obligations or obtain any required consents or approvals which may arise as a result of your use of the Trading Platform or associated transactions.

11.14. The Company may vary its costs from time to time. The Company shall notify the Client of any changes, before they come into effect. The variation will take effect from the date of which the Company specifies in its notification to the Client.
